

Felix Wilson

South Carolina, Peer Leader and Educator

“I wish that all people who work in education can get the opportunity to experience something like this because the information that we’ve learned, the experiences that we’ve had, we can take them back to our communities, use them in our own hometowns, and enrich the lives of underserved communities that we interact with.”

The NAPE Equity Academy Showcase provided us the opportunity to meet a lot of different people from across the country, hear opinions and actual work that's been done in order to improve equity around the country. We've had fellowship, we've had community, we've had laughs, we've learned a lot. I think the NAPE team has done a really good job providing this opportunity for us to experience equity work in a community setting. It's been enriching man, I've really enjoyed myself. I wish that all people who work in education can get the opportunity to experience something like this because the information that we've learned, the experiences that we've had, we can take them back to our communities, use them in our own hometowns, and enrich the lives of underserved communities that we interact with. Shout out to Ashley, Nakeia, Kayla, Silvia, you know what I'm sayin', my boy behind the camera, everybody, you know what I'm sayin'. If it wasn't for you all we wouldn't be able to do this type of work. I really do appreciate everything you appreciate everything you all did, for sure.